ADULT CAMPERS RESPONSIBILITY

Adults are expected to participate in all aspects of camp activities. Staff is here to help facilitate activities but, adults will be expected to oversee camper behavior and participation.

Groups are expected to provide correct number adults to maintain adult to camper ratios as outlined by GSUSA. More info on camper-adult ratios camp be found here: Adult-to-Girl Ratios: Understanding How Many Volunteers You Need

- Adults will serve as primary chaperones for their camper(s) throughout camp.
- Adult campers will receive camp schedules to help yourself and other campers remain on-time and well-informed.
- Adults are expected to participate in scheduled activities, on time. Help your group with their activities, as needed, but also create your own crafts and play games as a fully engaged camper.

- Adults should help all other campers by reminding them to keep their bathroom clean, and be quiet at bed time.
- Adults should advise their group to wake up, pack their day pack, be on time to meals and flag ceremonies, go to bed, and to behave in a manner consistent with the Girl Scout Promise and Law.
- Adults should adhere to Girl Scouts principles and camp rules, guidelines, and schedules at all times.
- All campers, adult and child, will have kapers responsibilities.
- The primary camp rule to enforce from the very start of camp is our “buddy system”. This requires that every child have a buddy with them at all times. This means another child or related adult must accompany the child to and from all activities, the bathroom, and to their cabins at night. In other words, a child is never alone and never alone with an unrelated adult. Staff will need help enforcing this rule with all children at all times. Adults, if you see a child on their own, please be sure they acquire a buddy ASAP! We highly recommend adults adhere to the buddy system, as well.

From around the campfire,
Your GSMW Resident Camp Team

CAMPER AND CAREGIVER PREPARATION

Before coming to camp, it is important to prepare your Girl Scout for a great learning experience:

- With support and advice, let your camper pack their own bag, and teach them how to roll their own sleeping bag so they gain independence even before arriving at camp.
- Parents, prepare yourself for camp! Children can easily pick up on their parent’s feelings. So, if you’re nervous about camp, they will be, too. Show your camper that you’re excited for their camp opportunity, and discuss how it will be a great experience for parent and child!
- Listen to the camper’s concerns, and provide answers to their questions. If they have questions about camp that you can’t answer, feel free to ask customercare@gsmw.org.

Prepare your camper to use coping strategies, like these, at camp:

- Try to play every game and try every offered activity at least once.
- Look forward to the new skills and adventures each day at camp.
- Introduce yourself to at least one new friend every day!
