STEM Camp Newsletter

Summer 2025

Announcements:

STEM Campers swim every Friday! Please send swim gear on Friday mornings if your camper wants to swim.
Lost something? Ask your camper to check our lost and found or give us a call in the office.

Special Note for Week 6 Campers

The Cranbrook Classic tennis tournament is being held on campus during Week 6 (7/21-7/27). Shuttle busses for tennis players and officials will be sharing the 1060 Vaughan Rd. driveway with STEM camp. Please be aware of additional vehicles in the driveway, look for the STEM sign upon arrival, and pull as far down the driveway as possible when dropping off and picking up your camper.

This Week:

This Week's Theme: Dig It!

Week # 5 Spectacular Scientists

Purple Parrots
Clark L.

Orange Iguanas
Clara M.

Blue Barracudas
Yuyan X.

Green Monkeys
Ana W.

Red Jaguars
Jeremiah G.

This Week's Highlights:

The theme for Week 5 was Dig It! Campers journeyed through time and unearthed the mysteries of our planet! They delved into archaeology, paleontology, and geology, uncovering ancient artifacts, dinosaur fossils, and the secrets of Earth's layers.

Looking Ahead:

The STEM Camp theme for Week 6 is In Our Element! Young chemists will dive into the fascinating world of chemistry! Throughout the week, campers will conduct exciting experiments, learn about the periodic table, and discover the reactions that make up our everyday lives.

Staff Spotlight:

This week we will meet the staff from the Red Jaguars group!

“Hi! My name is Franklin and this is my first summer as a counselor with Cranbrook’s STEM Camp! I’m studying data science at Michigan State University (Go Green!). I previously worked with the Michigan Science Center’s Mi-Sci Spark Camp and I’m excited to get back to educating and engaging with the youth!”

Zoe writes, “This is my first summer as an instructor at STEM camp, and I’m excited for all things chemistry and biology. I’m finishing up my degree in Secondary Education and Integrated Science at Northern Michigan University. When I’m not at camp, I enjoy reading on my kindle or crocheting.”

From Ashley: “This is my second summer at STEM Camp and my first as an instructor! I’m most excited about Chemistry week. I’m currently a Senior at Michigan State University (Go Green!). When not at camp, I am usually hanging with my sisters or going to movies with friends!”
