

YOUNG AUTHORS DAY CAMP

Weekly Newsletter

Week 6 Recap

After an impressive week with much heroism, campers wrote many captivating stories and created colorful comic strips to further their characters' adventures. Each camper had the opportunity to vote on a group mascot for the week that best represented their group's dynamic. The Green group's mascot was Groot (from Guardians of the Galaxy), the Yellow group chose Beast Boy (from Teen Titans), and the Blue group chose Wonder Woman. These characters showed up quite a few times in comics and stories, so ask your campers about which stories stuck out to them the most! As the week progressed, campers revised and edited their comic strips and stories to be used in the YADC anthology (still available for purchase).

Thank you for sharing your young authors with us! If your child is returning for camp next week, we will see you then. Otherwise, have a fun and relaxing rest of your summer!

Looking Ahead - Week 7

Do you like to look up at the stars? Have you ever thought about going to the moon? Outer space is a very mysterious and intriguing place that campers will explore through morning prompts, daily mini lessons, writing adventures, and art projects. Campers will choose their favorite piece from the week to edit and revise through both self and peer revision and end the week with a final and published piece for the annual anthology, which they may choose to read aloud at our Authors Share.

Week 7 will feature a camp-wide Thematic Thursday where campers and staff are encouraged to come dressed as their favorite SYFY characters. The group with the most participation wins a sweet prize!

IMPORTANT REMINDERS

1. Complete a Daily Health Assessment for each camper before arriving to campus each morning.
2. Have campers wear bathing suits underneath their clothes on Monday and Wednesday.
3. Upload/submit COVID-19 clearance to participate in camp.
4. YADC runs 9:30am-3:30pm. Campers who arrive before 9:15am or who are picked up after 3:45pm will have their account charged for drop-in extended care (unless already signed up).
5. Upload/submit an Allergy Meal Request form (if the camper cannot have the meal(s) provided).
6. Upload/submit an Authorization of Administer Medicine form (if the camper requires any medicine or topical cream to be given/applied by a staff member or nurse during camp hours).
