Guiding Principles

Dress codes are challenging and one size never fits all! In the spirit of embracing the uniqueness of everybody, our dress code applies to all campers and staff and aims to strike a balance between individual comfort, expression, and our faith-based values. In creating this policy we strive to capture the principles below, and aim to make our dress code a positive and supportive aspect of your child's camp experience. We are always happy to answer any dress code questions that may arise.

Modesty: While the South Carolina sun is scorching, we encourage modesty. Please choose clothing that covers your child's body appropriately, creating an atmosphere of mutual respect for everyone at camp.

Activity-Appropriate Attire: Since we're all about outdoor fun, we ask that you make sure attire is fit for the activity your child is engaging in. You wouldn't wear a swimsuit to horsemanship or boots to the lake. Water sports require swim-wear that will stay put when you take a dive.

Change for Comfort: In the event that attire is not suitable for camp or a specific activity, we'll kindly ask for a change. Our goal is to ensure everyone's comfort and safety so they can focus on making incredible memories.

DRESS CODE GUIDELINES

(1) Shoes: All shoes must have a back or back strap. Closed toed shoes are great! Athletic sandals (Teva or Chocos), Crocs (with strap), and/or water shoes are always handy to have, and Horsemanship requires boots with a heel. We recommend breaking in shoes before you come and packing plenty of socks that come at least ankle high. Blisters are the worst!

(2) Shorts, skirts, and such: Go for it! Think functional and please make sure that they cover you appropriately while sitting, standing, rolling down a hill, or fleeing a surprise water balloon attack. Be mindful of shorts that ride up and know that if your shorts are too short to short, you'll need to change. We sincerely recommend mid-thigh length. We run around a lot and chaffed skin is no fun for anyone. No bike style shorts are permitted unless they are worn as undergarments.

(3) Tops: Halter, strapless, and skinny strap tops aren't allowed. Shirts (or other stuff) with profanity, inappropriate logos or pictures, or advertisements of drugs, tobacco, or alcohol aren't cool either. Keep your tummy concealed, please and thank you.

(4) Swimsuits: Don't let things get cheeky by the water – make a splash while ensuring your swim trunks/bottoms cover the crack, top to bottom. In other words, everyone's bum needs to be covered from top to tail, no exceptions.

Gentlemen - no athletic style swim briefs (i.e. Speedos). Swim trunks must be an appropriate length for water sports and must have a functioning draw string.

Ladies - One piece swimsuits are encouraged, especially for water sport activities. Two piece swimsuits are permitted however, all swimsuits must completely cover your middle and have a secure fastener (i.e. strings don't cut it).
