

Mini Camp News

Week 4: July 5 - July 8

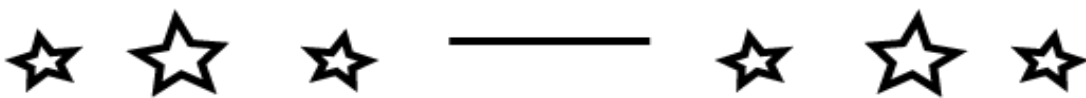

As we reach the end of our first summer session, we said goodbye to some of our friends who won't be returning and finished up some final projects in our language and culture class. Then we celebrated our time together by barbecuing hot dogs, hitting the piñata, and splashing in the water out on the turf. It has been so much fun to get to know all the Minis over the past month, and we hope that they have had an unforgettable experience here at camp. If you are leaving we hope to see you next summer! If you are returning for the next session, have a great weekend and see you Monday.
